INDEX TO VOLUME CXLIV.

Abbott, E. G. Oblique subtrochanteric osteotomy for the lengthening of the femur and correction of the deformity of flexion resulting from hip-joint disease, 351.

Abbott, S. W. Recent progress in public hygiene, 311, 332, 353.

Abdomen. Contusion of the abdomen, no external wound, rupture of the descending colon, fecal abscess, drainage, suture of ruptured gut, recovery, Scudder, C. L., 377; contusions of the abdomen, Scudder, C. L., 415; catharsis in abdominal surgery, Crandon, L. R. G., 639.

Abel, J. J. Further observations on epinephrin, 116.

Abscess. The treatment of psoas abscess by incision, Lovett, R. W., 463.

Academy of Medicine. Channing, W., 125.

Adams, Z. B. The differential diagnosis of intestinal obstruction, 12.

Adirondack Cottage Sanitarium, 538.

Advertisements. Disgraceful and annoying medical advertisements in current magazines and newspapers, Totten-McMaster-G., 569.

Allen, G. W. Treatment of chronic gonorrhea, 134.

"American Medicine." A new medical journal, 362.

Anatomy. The study of anatomy, 290.

Anesthesia. My failures and successes with spinal anesthesia, Marx, S., 17; remarks upon spinal cocainization suggested by cases seen at Tuffier's clinic in Paris, August, 1900, 37; the report of the anesthetics committee of the British Medical Association, 288; remarks on anesthesia—general, local and spinal, Richardson, M. H., 391, 407.

Antitoxin. The use of antitoxin, 341.

Appendicitis. Typhoid fever vs. appendicitis, Richardson, M. H., 26; is appendicitis increasing, 267; inherited predisposition to appendicitis, DeWitt, W. H., 627; a case of measles complicated by appendicitis, Williams, H., 642.

Appetites and passions, 124.

Arm. Backward dislocation of the ulna, fracture of the external condyle of the humerus, fracture of the radius and ulna near the wrist joint, Beach, H. H. A., 206.

Army. The army bill and the medical department, 52; medical generals, 173; information for candidates seeking employment in the army, 244; meat ration in the tropics, Egan, P. R., 276; American soldiers in the tropics, Seaman, L. L., 598.

Arnold, H. D. The condition of the myocardium as affecting cardiac murmurs, 324, 335.

Arsenic in food and drink, 313.

Asthma. Emerson, F. P., 520.

Athletics. A study of the food consumed and digested by four members of the Harvard University boat crew in June, 1900, Atwater, W. O., and Benedict, F. G., 601; athletic training, 654.

Atwater, W. O., and Benedict, F. G. A study of the food consumed and digested by four members of the Harvard University boat crew in June, 1900, 601, 629.

Back Bay water park and the health of Boston, 386.

Bacteriology. A series of cases illustrative of the clinical importance of bacteriological examinations, Fitz, R. H., 207; the interpretation of bacteriological findings in diphtheria diagnosis, Hill, H. W., 226.

Bailey, P. Spinal accessory paralysis, 212; the nervous system in diabetes, 382.

Balch, F. G. Treatment of acute gonorrhea, 130.

Barker, Novy and Flexner. Study of bubonic plague based upon the outbreak in San Francisco, 564.

Barnes, H. J. The Charles River basin, 460.

Bartley, E. H. Glycosuria and diabetes mellitus in relation to life insurance, 383.

Beach, H. H. A. Operation for the removal of a foreign body impacted in the esophagus for more than two weeks, 206; backward dislocation of the ulna, fracture of the external condyle of the humerus, fracture of the radius and ulna near the wrist joint, 206; retention of urine from obstruction by the third lobe of the prostate gland, 207.

Beck, C. The treatment of puerperal fever, 188.

Bell, R. Experience in search of a cure for asthma in the far Southwest, with observations of the comparative value of different sections in respiratory diseases, 395.

Bellevue Hospital. Report on conditions at Bellevue Hospital, New York, 172.

Beyer, H. G. Experiment and experience with the rifle, 1.

Bibliography. Abrams, A., diseases of the heart, 594; Anders, J. W., a textbook of practical medicine, 167; Ayers, E. A., physical diagnosis in obstetrics, a guide in antepartum, partum and postpartum examination for the use of physicians and undergraduates, 456; Beck, C., fractures, 320; Bennett, W. H., the present position of the treatment of simple fracture of the limbs, 119, on the use of massage and early passive movements in recent fractures and other common surgical injuries, and the treatment of internal derangements of the knee joint, 120; Bichat, X., anatomie générale appliquée à la physiologie et à la médecine, 593; Black, J. J., forty years in the medical profession, 359; Borden, W. C., the use of the Röntgen ray by the medical department of the U. S. Army in the war with Spain (1898), 167; Bryce, R., and Sherrington, C. S., the Thompson Yates laboratories report, 95; Brubaker, a compend of human physiology, 595; Bruce, J. M., Bruce's principles of treatment, 239; Buck, A. H., a reference handbook of the medical sciences, 358; Carpenter, G., the syphilis of children in everyday practice, 266; Carter, A. B., the prevention and cure of obesity, 144; Caton, R., the prevention of valvular disease of the heart, 144; Chapin, C. V., municipal sanitation in the United States, 620; Chapman, C. W., heart disease in childhood and youth, 19; Cheyne, W. W., and Burghard, F. F., a manual of surgical treatment, 94; Crile, G. W., experimental research into the surgery of the respiratory system, 143; Culbreth, a manual of materia medica and pharmacology, 594; Cutter, T. S., cancer of the uterus, 191; Curtis, H. J., the essentials of practical bacteriology, 360; Cushing, A. R., a textbook of pharmacology and therapeutics, or the action of drugs in health and disease, 167; Da Costa, J. C., modern surgery, general and operative, 21; Davis, E. P., obstetric and gynecologic nursing, 359; De Keersmaecker, J., and Verhoogen, J., chronic urethritis of gonococcic origin, 479; Dunglison, R., a dictionary of medical science, 506; Dwight, T., description of the human spines showing numerical variations in the Warren Museum of the Harvard Medical School, 142; Eccles, W. McA., hernia, 20; Estes, W. L., the treatment of fractures, 71; Evans, D. J., Evans's obstetrics, 407; Golebiewski, E., atlas and epitome of diseases caused by accident, 93; Goodrich, W. F., the economic disposal of town refuse, 622; Goodsall, D. H., diseases of the anus and rectum, 408; Gould, G. M., suggestions to medical writers, 93; Greene, C. L., the medical examination for life insurance and its associated clinical methods, 191; Haig, A., uric acid as a factor in the causation of disease, 95; Hare, H. A., a textbook of practical therapeutics, 95; Harrington, C., a manual of practical hygiene for students, physicians and medical officers, 456; Harvard College: annual report, 1899-1900, 144; Hine, T. W., practical guide to the public health acts, 288; Hopkins, W. B., a clinical treatise on fractures, 93; Hunter, W., oral sepsis as a cause of septic gastritis, "toxic neuritis" and other septic conditions, 408; Hutchinson, W., studies in human and comparative pathology, 456; international catalogue of scientific literature, 293; Jackson, E., a manual of diagnosis and treatment of diseases of the eye, 20; Joseph, M., and Loewenbach, G., dermatohistological technique, 46; Keetley, C. B., orthopedic surgery, 167; Kelynack, T. M., and Kirkby, W., arsenical poisoning in beer drinkers, 313; Kirkes' physiology, 27; Knopf, S. A., tuberculosis as a disease of the masses and how to combat it, 478; Krafft-Ebing, R. von, psycopathia sexualis with special reference to antipathic sexual instinct, 190; Kyle, D. B., a textbook of diseases of the nose and throat, 384; Manson, P., tropical diseases, 144; Mayo, T. J., consumption, pneumonia and their allies, 594; McBride, P., diseases of the throat, nose and ears, 21; Morrell, S. H., rudiments of modern medical electricity, 191; Morris, M., ringworm in the light of modern research, 72; Munson, E. L., the theory and practice of military hygiene, 621; Musser, J. H., Musser's diagnosis, 120; Mynter, H., appendicitis and its surgical treatment, 94; Packard, F. R., the history of medicine in the United States, 480; Parkes, L., and Kenwood, H., hygiene and public health, 621; Payne, J. F., Thomas Sydenham, 593; Peiper, E., insect larvæ as occasional parasites in man, 46; Porter, W. T., an introduction to physiology, 287; Powell, W. M., Saunders' question compends, 621; Pryor, W. R., the treatment of pelvic inflammation through the vagina, 240; Pyle, W. L., a manual of personal hygiene, 190; Roberts, J. B., a manual of modern surgery, 19; the surgical treatment of congenital and pathological disfigurements of the face, 95; Robson, A. W. M., diseases of the gall bladder and bile ducts, including gall stones, 94; a guide to the instruments and appliances required in various operations, 95; Roger, G. H., introduction to the study of medicine, 191; Schamberg, J. F., a compend of diseases of the skin, 72; Sehn, N., medico-surgical aspect of the Spanish-American war, 456; Seitz, C., Kurzgefasstes Lehrbuch der kinderheilkunde für Aerzte und Studirende, 72; Senn, N., the pathology and surgical treatment of tumors, 94; Snell, S., on the prevention of eye accidents occurring in trade, 47; Solis-Cohen, S., and Eshner, A. A., Saunders' question compends, No. 17, 167; Stimson, L. A., a practical treatise on fractures and dislocations, 72; a manual of operative surgery, 73; Stöhr, P., textbook of histology, including microscopic technique, 166; Stoney, E. M. A., bacteriology and surgical technique for nurses, 20; Sturgis, F. R., the students' manual of venereal diseases, 384; sexual debility in man, 505; Swanzy, H. R., a handbook of the diseases of the eye and their treatment, 21; Taylor, J. M., and Wells, W. H., manual of the diseases of children, 359; Thomas, J. B., Jr., a book of detachable diet lists for various diseases, 46; Thoring-ton, J., refraction and how to refract, 46; Thornton, E. Quin, the medical news pocket formulary, 654; Thorpe, E. J. E., speech hesitation, 95; Tirard, N., Tirard's medical treatment, 143; Treves, F., the tale of a field hospital, 191; Tyson, J., the practice of medicine, 19; Walsham, W. J., surgery, its theory and practice, 73; Warren, J. C., and Gould, A. P., the international handbook of surgery, 47; Wilbur, C. L., the thirty-second annual report of the Secretary of State on the registration of births, deaths, marriages and divorces in Michigan for the year 1898, 93; Williams, D., medical diseases of infancy and childhood, 45; Winters, J. E., the feeding of infants, 594; Wood, H. C., therapeutics, its principles and practice, 95.

Billings, F. Report on the progress of cases of pernicious anemia presented to the association in 1900, and report of a case of pernicious anemia with diffuse spinal cord lesions with post-mortem findings, 562.

Billings, J. S. Remarks at the dedication of the new building of the Boston Medical Library, 61.

Biography. Baker, R. C., 438; Barclay, P. M., 198; Bixby, G. H., 245; Bond, F., 198; Booth, A. R., 54; Bradley, E., 294; Brockway, F. J., 438; Brown, U. H., 28; Burge, J. H. H., 342; Busey, S. C., 197; Carradine, J. S., 438; Cogswell, G., 414; Comfort, J. E., 570; DaCosta, J. M., 169; Deyo, A., 462; Dorr, S. G., 462; Draper, W. H., 436; Dunglison, R. J., 269; Dresser, A. J., 658; Feeney, J. L., 570; Ferris, I. W., 28; Fodor, J., 508; Franklin, B., 198; Greenleaf, R. W., 438, 459; Giddings, T., 246; Gregg, S. C., 150; Hamilton, E. E., 126; Hayes, J., 512; Hayward, G., 342; Herrick, H. J., 126; Hill, H. C., 174; Hodgman, A., 246; Hyde, S. T., 222; Inglis, R., 438; Jacob, A. H., 173; Jewett, H. O., 150; Lazear, J. W., 596; Lee, L. J. W., 78; Levison, H. A., 318; Linsley, J. H., 219; Lyon, S. K., 462; Manassein, Professor, 315; Marston, D. W., 628; McDonough, L. J., 438; Mergler, M. J., 537; Miller, T. De C., 150; Montford, R. V. K., 54; O'Callaghan, T. A., 540; Ollier, L., 269, 569; Osborne, G. S., 540, 568; Palmer, H. O., 540; Parkhill, M. H., 342; Potter, H. B., 222; Rice, C., 511; Riley, T., 246; Rosse, I. C., 486; Sargent, J., 318; Shurtleff, A., 126; Smith, E. A., 28; Sprague, S. B., 600; Stevens, C. W., 126; Stronach, J. W., 126; Sumner, A. M., 540, 568; Tarbell, G. G., 28, 52; Thayer, F. L., 246, 269; Warren, E. L., 540; Weinges, C., 540; Wells, J. A., 540; Wheeler, T. B., 78; Whitbeck, H. D., 540; Worcester, W. L., 627; Wren, G. W. C., 318; Youmans, W. J., 390.

Blake, J. B. Gonorrheal prostatis, 137; sarcoma of the humerus and scapula, 645.

Blake, J. G. Registration of midwives, 91.

Blodgett, A. N. Formaldehyde gas in diphtheria, 412.

Blood. Study of granular degeneration of the red blood corpuscles, Stengel, A., White, C. Y., and Pepper, W., 563; the effect on the blood of ether as an anesthetic, DaCosta, J. C., and Kalteyer, J. L., 590; examination of the blood in relation to surgery of scientific value, but too often of no practical value, and may misguide the surgeon, 591.

Body. The right to will one's body for scientific investigation, 317.

Boland, E. S. The woollen yarn truss in infantile inguinal hernia, 152, 160; remarks at meeting of the Suffolk District Medical Society, 431.

Boldt, H. J. Specimen of tubal pregnancy, 213; the definition of septicemia and pyemia; the indication for vaginal hysterectomy and for abdominal section and drainage in puerperal fever, 214.

Bone. Osteitis deformans, Packard, F. A., and Steele, J. D., 587; the spinal form of arthritis deformans, Osler, W., 588.

Boston. Boston's ice, 537; a menace to Boston's water supply, 565.

Bowen, J. T. Report on dermatology, 186, 209.

Bradford, E. H., and Cotton, F. J. Progress in orthopedic surgery, 108, 141, 158.

Brandy. What is brandy? 172.

Bread. Good bread and sanitary bakeries, 217.

Brookline, Report of Brookline, Mass., board of health, 361.

Brothers, A. Malignant chorion epithelioma, or so-called deciduoma malignum, 16.

Brown, F. T. The diagnosis and surgical treatment of renal tuberculosis, 513, 527.

Brush and Fayerweather. Observations on the blood pressure during the period of normal sleep, 91.

Bryant, J. D. The influence of mental depression on the development of malignant disease, 589.

Bubonic Plague. Curry, J. J., 277.

Bullard, W. N., and Townsend, C. W. Convulsions in children, 233, 239.

Burrage, W. L. Gonorrhea in women, 132.

Burrell, H. L., Lovett, R. W., and Goldthwait, J. E. Report of cases from the second surgical service of the Children's Hospital, 329.

Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W. Report on progress of surgery, 429, 451, 476, 495.

Cabot, A. T. A case of accidental inoculation of cancer in a fresh wound, 471; photograph of an artificial anus following a Kraske's operation for cancer of the rectum, 474; idiopathic abscess of the kidney, 554; some forms of intestinal obstructions due to adhesions, 635, 646.

Call, E. A. A case of Cæsarean section in a face presentation, complicated by uterine fibroid, 427, 431.

Cancer. A case of accidental inoculation of cancer in a fresh wound, Cabot, A. T., 471; another alleged cause of cancer, 480; notes on the treatment of some forms of cancer by the x-rays, Williams, F. H., 587; some phases of the cancer question, Park, R., 588; brief consideration of the cases of cancer of the breast treated at the Johns Hopkins Hospital since 1889, Halstead, W. S., 589; late results in inoperable sarcoma treated with the mixed toxins, Coley, W. B., 589; the influence of mental depression on the development of malignant disease, Bryant, J. D., 589; some statistics of cancer, 595.

Cary, C. A case of pneumonia complicated by pseudo-membranous exudate on the mucous membranes of the mouth, tongue, pharynx, nares, conjunctivæ, glans penis, anus, etc., caused by dipplococcus pneumoniæ, 562.

Celli, A. Malaria in relation to engineering and agriculture, 364.

Census. A census of tuberculosis, 655.

Century. MDCCC-MCM, 22.

Cæsarean Section. A case of Cæsarean section for complete placenta previa, Hare, C. H., 151, 160; a case of Cæsarean section, Keenan, H. J., 255; a case of Cæsarean section in a face presentation, complicated by uterine fibroid, Call, E. S., 427, 431.

Chadwick, J. R. Address at the dedication of the new building of the Boston Medical Library, 56.

Channing, W. An academy of medicine, 125.

Chapin, H. D. A simple and accurate method of substitute infant feeding, 166; diabetes in children, 382.

Charles River Basin. Barnes, H. J., 460.

Charities. Report of joint committee of State Charities Aid Association, 436.

Charity. The blessings of charity, 568.

Cheever, D. W. Address at the dedication of the new building of the Boston Medical Library, 56.

Children. The purulent rhinitis of children as a source of infection in cervical adenitis, Cobb, C. M., 38; report on the diseases of children, Roteh, T. M., 66; a simple and accurate method of substitute infant feeding, Chapin, H. D., 166; convulsions in children, Bullard, W. N., and Townsend, C. W. 233, 239; whey cream modifications in infant feeding, White, F. W., and Ladd, M., 237; report of cases from the second surgical service of the Children's Hospital, Burrell, H. L., Lovett, R. W., and Goldthwait, J. E., 329; pathology of the newborn as illustrated in the practice of the writer, Taylor, F. W., 347, 357; diabetes mellitus in children, Chapin, H. D., 382; infantile scorbutus, Morse, J. L., 465; shall it be sunlight or sleep for children; which is the more effective agent for general health, 485.

Christian Science. A so-called victory for Christian Science, 362.

Chute, A. L., and O'Neil, R. F. Some observations on chronic seminal vesiculitis, 577.

Circulatory System. The suprarenal capsule in organic heart disease, Floersheim, S., 77; observations on the blood pressure during the period of normal sleep, Brush and Fayerweather, 91; some new observations on blood plates and leucocytes, Kemp, G. T., and Calhoun, H., 92; the treatment of the later phases of heart diseases, Heffron, J. L., 103; fatty degeneration of the heart, Satterthwait, T. E., 165; rupture of the right iliac artery, Shattuck, F. C., 183; pleuropericardial and diaphragmatic adhesions, Goodwillie, D. H., 188; recent progress in thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., and Bartol, J. W., 236, 256; diseases of the myocardium, Jackson, H., 319, 335; the condition of the myocardium as affecting cardiac murmurs, Arnold, H. D., 324, 335; an undescribed cardiac sound, Hare, H. A., 534; frequency and the diagnosis of the Flint murmur in aortic insufficiency, Thayer, W. S., 534; the causes and clinical features of cardiac hydrothorax, Stengel, A., 535; study of granular degeneration of the red blood corpuscles, Stengel, A., White, C. Y., and Pepper, W., 563; a case of marked cyanosis, difficult to explain, McKeen, S. F., 610; the treatment of the arteriovenous aneurisms of the subclavic vessels, Matas, R., 616; phlebitis following abdominal operations, Vanderveer, A., 617.

Clark, G. P. A rheocord, 92.

Clark, J. P. Case operated on for exaggerated Roman nose, 493.

Cleghorn, A. Kirkes' handbook of physiology, 125.

Cobb, C. M. The purulent rhinitis of children as a source of infection in cervical adenitis, 38.

Cobb, F. C. Peritonsillar abscess, 106, 112.

Cocoanut. Changes in the composition of the cocoanut during germination, Kirkwood, J. E., and Gies, W. J., 119.

Codman, E. A. No practical danger from the x-ray, 197.

Coggeshall, F. A case of complete placenta previa, 157, 160.

Coley, W. B. Late results in inoperable sarcoma treated with the mixed toxins, 589.

Collins, G. L. A brief summary of nine cases of lobar pneumonia treated by ice pack, 309.

Conn, G. P. John W. Pray prize—a correction, 657.

Coolidge, A. Jr. Progress in laryngology, 87.

Correction. John W. Pray prize—a correction, Conn, G. P., 657.

Cragin, E. B. Full-term ectopic gestation, 15.

Crandon, L. R. G. Catharsis in abdominal surgery, 639.

Crook, J. K. Recent progress in the treatment of acute lobar pneumonia, 164.

Culls, H. M. Upon what sort of information shall a medical examiner hold a view, 373.

Cumston, C. G. Intestinal anastomosis, 254.

Curry, J. J. A description of the work of the army pathological laboratories, and general remarks on the investigation of the diseases of the Philippines, 175; dysenteric diseases of the Philippine Islands, with special reference to the ameba coli as a causative agent in tropical dysentery, 177; bubonic plague, 277; the fevers of the Philippines, 446.

Cutaneous System. Cases of xeroderma pigmentosum, White, J. C., 473; case of elephantiasis, Vickery, H. F., 474; what is rodent ulcer, Fordyce, J. A., 164; report on dermatology, Bowen, J. T., 186, 209; a further report on the treatment of epidermoid cancer, Williams, F. H., 329; cutaneous complications in diabetes mellitus, Sherwell, S., 382; a case of ichthyosis in a boy four years old, White, J. C., 472; dermatitis produced by a caterpillar, White, J. C., 599.

Cutler, E. G. A short abstract of the early history of medicine in Massachusetts to the year 1800, 79.

DaCosta, J. C., and Kalteyer, J. L. The effect on the blood of ether as an anesthetic, 590.

Dana, C. L. Progressive lingual hemiatrophy, 213.

Darling, E. A. The effects of training, 556.

Davis, N. S., Jr. Internal medicine in the nineteenth century, 571.

Deaths in Boston for the years 1899 and 1900, 293.

Derby, H. The use and abuse of spectacles, 199.

Dewis, J. W. Placenta previa centralis, report of a case, 157, 161.

DeWitt, W. H. Inherited predisposition to appendicitis, 627.

Diabetes. Discussion, diabetes mellitus: diagnosis and prognosis, Stark, H. S., 380; etiology and pathogenesis, Stern, H., 381; diabetes in children, Chapin, H. D., 382; the nervous system in diabetes, Bailey, P., 382 ; cutaneous complications, Sherwell, S., 382 ; ocular manifestations, Hepburn, N. J., 382 ; treatment, Mayer, A., 383 ; glycosuria and diabetes mellitus in relation to life insurance, Bartley, E. H., 383; the acid intoxication of diabetes and its relation to prognosis, Herter, C. A., 563; metabolism in diabetic coma, with special reference to acid intoxication, Joslin, E. P., 564.

Digestive System. The differential diagnosis of intestinal obstructions, Adams, Z. B., 12 ; typhoid fever vs. appendicitis, Richardson, M. H., 26 ; on the movements of the esophagus and the cardia and on some of the complexities of the centre of deglutition, Meltzer, S. J., 91 ; a hair cast of a living human stomach, Jackson, N., 92 ; a case of idiopathic dilatation of the colon, Richardson, M. H., 155 ; a hair cast of the stomach, its successful removal by laparotomy, Jackson, N., 189 ; operation for the removal of a foreign body impacted in the esophagus for more than two weeks, Beach, H. H. A., 206 ; clinical notes and comments : cancer of the extremity of the common bile duct, Edes, R. T., 223 ; intestinal anastomosis, Cumston, C. G., 254; a case of retroperitoneal lymphangiosarcoma, operation, recovery, no recurrence after two years, Lund, T. B., 279 ; photograph of an artificial anus following a Kraske's operation for cancer of the rectum, Cabot, A. T., 474; the surgical treatment of gastric ulcer, with report of cases, Lund, F. B., 548, 559; cyst of the omentum, Jacobi, A., 561; septic infection through the stomach and duodenum, James, W. B., 586; pancreatitis with especial reference to chronic pancreatitis, Robson, A. W. M., 591; the surgical treatment of chronic ulcer of the stomach, Robson, A. W. M., 615; an operation for the radical cure of umbilical hernia, Mayo, W. J., 618; prevention and cure of post-operative hernia, Moore, J. E., 618; inherited predisposition to appendicitis, DeWitt, W. H., 627.

Diphtheria. Disinfection within and without the body in diphtheria, Veeder, M. A., 153 ; the interpretation of bacteriological findings in diphtheria diagnosis, Hill, H. W., 226 ; formaldehyde gas in diphtheria, Blodgett, A. N., 412; diphtheria and boards of health, 566.

Disinfection within and without the body in diphtheria, Veeder, M. A., 153.

Doctor. A new kind of doctor, 97.

Draper, F. W. Remarks at the dedication of the new building of the Boston Medical Library, 58.

Dulles, C. W. Mumps in pneumonia, boroglyceride, 308.

Dunham, T. Iodophilia, 580.

Ear. Two cases of ligature of the internal jugular vein for infective thrombosis of the sigmoid sinus due to purulent otitis media; one recovery and one death, Jack, F. L., 203; recent progress in otology, Hammond, P., 523.

Edes, R. T. Clinical notes and comments ; degenerative disease of the spinal cord associated with anemia, 10 ; clinical notes and comments ; cancer of the extremity of the common bile duct, 223.

Editorials. MDCCC-MCM, 22 ; underpaid physicians of public institutions, 22 ; ratio of physicians to the population, 47 ; physical culture, 48 ; the Boston Medical Library, 73 ; the responsibility of the doctor, 74 ; the thirty-first annual report of the State Board of Health of Massachusetts, 96 ; the registration of midwives, 97 ; a new kind of doctor, 97 ; report of the medical department in the Philippines, 120 ; mosquitoes and yellow fever, 122 ; the British congress on tuberculosis, 122 ; annual report of Harvard College, 144; gonorrhea from a medico-legal standpoint, 146 ; compulsory disinfection in typhoid fever, 168 ; a psycophysical laboratory in the Department of the Interior, Washington, 169 ; a proposed memorial to Dr. Da Costa, 169 ; some curiosities of legislative literature, 192 ; a school of tropical medicine in the Philippines, 194 ; the needs of a medical library, 216 ; good bread and sanitary bakeries, 217 ; a hospital for tuberculosis in Boston, 240 ; report of the New York tenement-house commission, 242 ; topography of the lateral ventricles 266 ; is appendicitis increasing, 267 ; the reports of the anesthetics committee of the British Medical Association, 288 ; the study of anatomy, 290 ; arsenic in food and drink, 313 ; associate membership in the Boston Medical Library, 315 ; the etiology of yellow fever, 337 ; the American Association of Pathologists and Bacteriologists, 339 ; plague in South Africa, 360 ; report of Brookline, Mass., Board of Health, 361 ; American Medicine, a new medical journal, 362 ; a so-called victory for Christian Science, 362 ; restrictive medical legislation, 385 ; the epidemic of typhoid fever at New Haven, Conn., 386 ; the proposed Back Bay water park and the health of Boston, 386 ; pathology of the Jewish race, 408 ; Instructive District Nursing Association, 409 ; hospitals in Japan, 433 ; two public documents, 434 ; defeat of the bill to regulate vivisection, 434 ; the preventive treatment of rabies, 457 ; the prevalence of smallpox, 457 ; another alleged cause of cancer, 480 ; a municipal hospital for pulmonary tuberculosis, 482 ; new light on the cause of pancreatitis, 506 ; a new medical laboratory for the University of Pennsylvania, 507 ; the illegal sale of narcotics, 508; some relations of medicine and surgery, 535; hospital corps graduation at Manila, 536; Boston's ice, 537; a menace to Boston's water supply, 565; a Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, 565; diphtheria and boards of health, 566; some statistics of cancer, 595; one hundred and twentieth anniversary of Massachusetts Medical Society, 596; a proposed memorial to Jesse William Lazear, M.D., 596; a reorganization of the American Medical Association, 597; the Massachusetts Medical Society dinner, 622; physicians and the law, 623; meeting of the American Neurological Association, 624; athletic training, 654; a census of tuberculosis, 655.

Egan, P. R. Meat ration in the tropics, 276.

Electricity. Electric automobiles a source of electric light, Stedman, J. C., 101.

Elephantiasis. Case of elephantiasis, Vickery, H. F., 474.

Elliot, J. W. Case of stone in the ureter located by the x-ray, 475 ; prostatectomy by the combined method (Alexander), 475.

Emerson, F. P. A special form of phlegmon of the neck, 403; asthma, 520.

Ewing, J. A case of malarial nephritis, with massing of the parasites in the kidney, 586.

Experts. The opinion evidence of medical experts, McLaughlin, J. D., 367.

Eye. The radical treatment of lachrymal diseases, Lancaster, W. B., 34, 43 ; an operation for cataract, Parks, E. L., 37, 43 ; oculists and opticians, McKeon, J. E., 53 ; gonorrheal conjunctivitis, Williams, C. H., 139 ; esophoria or latent squint, Valk, F., 164 ; the use and abuse of spectacles, Derby, H., 199 ; destruction of left eye and frontal lobe of brain from a shotgun explosion, Swasey, E., 230; ocular manifestations in diabetes mellitus, Hepburn, N. J., 382 ; neuritis recurring after atrophy of both optic nerves in a case of brain tumor, Williams, E. R., 469.

Femur. Oblique subtrochanteric osteotomy for the lengthening of the femur and correction of the deformity of flexion resulting from hip joint disease, Abbott, E. G., 351.

Finger. Avulsion of the finger, with a case in which this accident occurred to an infant twenty months old, Monks, G. H., 201.

Fisher, E. D. Differential diagnosis in diseases of the spinal cord, 188.

Fitz, R. H. A series of cases illustrative of the clinical importance of bacteriological examinations, 207 ; idiopathic dilatation of the colon, chronic rheumatic arthritis, chronic mitral endocarditis, hemiplegia, embedded needle, 208 ; myxedema, 473.

Flexner. Study of bubonic plague, 585.

Floersheim, S. The suprarenal capsule in organic heart disease, 77.

Food. A simple and accurate method of substitute infant feeding, Chapin, H. D., 166 ; good bread and sanitary bakeries, 217 ; whey cream modifications in infant feeding, White, F. W., and Ladd, M., 237 ; meat ration in the tropics, Egan, P. R., 276 ; the dangers of boiled milk, 292 ; whey cream modifications in infant feeding, Miller, D. J. M., 340; a study of the food consumed and digested by four members of the Harvard University boat crew in June, 1900, Atwater, W. O., and Benedict, F. G., 601, 629.

Fordyce, J. A. What is rodent ulcer, 164.

Fractures. A new method of treating fractures, Hatch, L. F., 305.

Fried, G. A., and Gies, W. J. Does muscle contain mucin, 117.

Fuller, E. Results following the cure of chronic defects in the vesical function, 165.

Gage, H. Uterine fibroids, 179.

Gay, W. F. Echinococcus of the liver with perforation into the lungs and bronchi, 492.

Generals. Medical generals, 173.

Generative System. Large multilocular fibroma of the uterus, Janvrin, J. E., 16 ; cancer of the uterus, Janvrin, J. E., 16 ; a case of obliteration of the right ureter by a calcified fibroid ; removal of fibroid and implantation of the ureter into the bladder, recovery, Richardson, M. H., 83, 91 ; uterine fibroids, Gage, H., 178 ; specimen of large myomatous growth of the uterus, Janvrin, 213 ; some observations on chronic seminal vesiculitis, Chute, A. L., and O'Neil, R. F., 577 ; recent progress in gynecology, Lund, F. B., 583, 611 ; orchitis complicating typhoid fever, Kinnicutt, F. G., 587.

Gonorrhea. Gonorrheal infection, Tenney, B., 127 ; the bacteriological diagnosis of the gonococcus, Richardson, O., 129 ; treatment of acute gonorrhea, Balch, F. G., 131 ; gonorrhea in women, Burrage, W. L., 132 ; treatment of chronic gonorrhea, Allen, G. W., 134 ; the seminal vesicles in gonorrhea, Scudder, C. L., 136 ; gonorrheal prostatitis, Blake, J. B., 137 ; gonorrheal conjunctivitis, Williams, C. H., 139; when is a gonorrhea cured, Thorndike, P., 140 ; gonorrhea from a medico-legal standpoint, 146.

Goodale, J. L. Retropharyngeal abscess in the adult, 108, 112.

Goodwillie, D. H. Pleuropericardial and diaphragmatic adhesions, 188.

Gorgas, W. C. The sanitary condition of Havana, 411.

Gunshot Wound. Operation for gunshot wound, Porter, C. A., 208.

Halliburton, W. D. Kirkes' physiology, 27.

Halsted, W. S. Brief consideration of the cases of cancer of the breast treated at the Johns Hopkins Hospital since 1889, 589.

Hammond, P. Recent progress in otology, 523.

Hare, C. H. A case of Cesarean section for complete placenta previa, 151, 160.

Hare, H. A. An undescribed cardiac sound, 534.

Harrington, C. Some reported cases of typhoid fever attributed to contaminated oysters, with certain facts concerning this means of infection, 439, 455.

Harris, J. S. The Physicians' Home, East Tennessee Mountains designated as a location, 100.

Harris, V. D. Re "Kirkes' Handbook of Physiology" in America, 101.

Hartwell, A. S. Contributions from the Long Island Hospital, Boston, 582.

Harvard Medical Alumni Association, 657.

Hatch, L. F. A new method of treating fractures, 305.

Havana. The sanitary condition of Havana, 411.

Hawk, P. B., and Gies, W. J. A further study of the glycoproteid in bone, 119.

Hearn and Roe. Pneumotomy of the lung, 620.

Heffron, J. L. The treatment of the later phases of heart diseases, 103.

Hepburn, N. J. Ocular manifestations in diabetes mellitus, 382.

Hernia. The woolen-yarn truss in infantile inguinal hernia, Boland, E. S., 152, 160 ; hernia, Phelps, A. M., 189 ; an operation for the radical treatment of umbilical hernia, Mayo, W. J., 618 ; prevention and cure of post-operative hernia, Moore, J. E., 618.

Herter, C. A. An analysis of the symptoms observed in cases of tuberculous meningitis at the Babies' Hospital, 70; the acid intoxication of diabetes and its relation to prognosis, 563.

Higgins, F. A. Report on progress in obstetrics, 40; observations on the use of antistreptococcus serum in the treatment of puerperal sepsis, with a report of five cases, 422, 432.

Hill, H. W. The interpretation of bacteriological findings in diphtheria diagnosis, 226.

History of Medicine. A short abstract of the early history of medicine in Massachusetts to the year 1800, Cutler, E. G., 79.

Hodgkin's Disease. Notes on the relapsing fever of Hodgkin's disease, Musser, J. H., 562.
Hospital. Should a hospital charge for information about patients, W. H. E., 221; hospital corps graduation at Manila, 536.
Howard, H. B. An explanation from the Massachusetts General Hospital, 245.
Hunt, R. Further investigations on the blood-pressure-lowering bodies in the suprarenals, 117.
Hygiene, Health and Boards of Health. The thirty-first annual report of the State Board of Health of Massachusetts, 96; recent progress in public hygiene, Abbott, S. W., 311, 332, 353; report of Brookline, Mass., Board of Health, 361; the proposed Back Bay park and the health of Boston, 386; diphtheria and boards of health, 566; the progress and tendency of hygiene and sanitary science in the nineteenth century, Kober, G. M., 652.
Hypnotism in France, 149.
Ice. Boston's ice, 537.
Immunity, 100.
Instruments and Apparatus. Student's laboratory table, Reichert, E. T., 92; a rheocord, Reichert, E. T., 92; a rheonome, Reichert, E. T., 92; a rheocord, Clark, G. P., 92; a smaller seehear, Rollins, W., 112; the woolen-yarn truss in infantile inguinal hernia, Boland, E. S., 152, 160; status of the laws and regulations in regard to importation of surgical instruments by hospitals, 437.
Internal medicine in the nineteenth century, Davis, N. S., Jr., 571.
Intestines. Some forms of intestinal obstructions due to adhesions, Cabot, A. T., 635, 646.
Iodophilia. Dunham, T., 580.
Jack, F. L. Two cases of ligature of the internal jugular vein for infective thrombosis of the sigmoid sinus due to purulent otitis media, one recovery and one death, 203.
Jackson, H. Diseases of the myocardium, 319, 335.
Jackson, J. M. A case of myxedema and arrested development, 494.
Jacobi, A. Uncomplicated hemorrhage from the pyothorax, 561; cyst of the omentum, 561.
Jacobson, N. A hair cast of a human stomach, 92; a hair cast of the stomach, its successful removal by laparotomy, 189.
Jacobs, H. B. A short account of the recent International Medical Congress in Paris, 29, 43.
Japan. Hospitals in Japan, 433.
James, W. B. Septic infection through the stomach and duodenum, 586.
Janvrin, J. E. Large multilocular fibroma of the uterus, 16; cancer of the uterus, 17; specimen of large myomatous growth of the uterus, 213.
Jelly, A. C. Puerperal insanity, 271, 286.
Jews. Pathology of the Jewish race, 408.
Joints. Loose semilunar cartilages, Warren, J. C., 186.
Jones, W., and Auer, J. On the oxidation of native pigments, 118.
Joslin, E. P. Metabolism in diabetic coma, with special reference to acid intoxication, 564.
Keen, W. W. Resection of the chest wall for a large sarcoma, successful use of the antistreptococcic serum, 619.
Keenan, H. J. A case of Cesarean section, 255.
Kemp, G. T., and Calhoun, H. Some new observations on blood plates and leucocytes, 92.
Kinnicutt, F. P. Orchitis complicating typhoid fever, 587.
Kirkes' handbook of physiology in America, Harris, V. D., 101.
Kirkwood, J. E., and Gies, W. J. Changes in the composition of the cocoanut during germination, 119.
Knapp, P. C. Recent progress in neurology, 377, 404.
Knight, F. I. Climate in pulmonary tuberculosis, 52.
Knopf, S. A. Municipal care of the consumptive poor, 487, 499.
Kober, G. M. The progress and tendency of hygiene and sanitary science in the nineteenth century, 652.
Laboratory. A physcophysical laboratory in the Department of the Interior, Washington, 169.
Lancaster, W. B. The radical treatment of lachrymal diseases, 34, 43.
Lane, E. B. Puerperal insanity, 606, 614.
Larynx. Progress in laryngology, Coolidge, A., Jr., 87.
Lead encephalopathy, Shattuck, F. C., 184.
Legal Medicine. The opinion evidence of medical experts, McLaughlin, J. D., 367; the Umillian murder, Perry, H. B., 371; upon what sort of evidence shall a medical examiner hold a view? Culls, H. M., 373; restrictive medical legislation, 385.
Legislative Literature. Some curiosities of legislative literature, 192.
Leszynsky, W. M. The terminal condition in a case of diplegia, 68.
Leucocytosis and typhoidal perforation, Russell, C. K., 374.
Levene, P. A. Analysis of some nucleic acids, 118.
Library. Dedication of the new building of the Boston Medical Library, 55; the Boston Medical Library, 73; the needs of a medical library, 216; associate membership in the Boston Medical Library, 315, 316; extension of membership of Boston Medical Library, 340.
Liver. Echinococcus of liver, with perforation into the lungs and bronchi, Gay, W. F., 492.
Loevenhart, A. S. On the occurrence of lipase in the body and its reversible action, 118.
Lovett, R. W. The treatment of psoas abscess by incision, 463.
Lund, F. B. A case of retroperitoneal lymphangiosarcoma, operation, recovery—no recurrence after two years, 279; the surgical treatment of gastric ulcer, with report of cases, 548, 559; recent progress in gynecology, 583, 611.
Mailhouse, M. Facial hemiatrophy, 212.
Malaria in relation to engineering and agriculture, Celli, A., 364.
Marx, S. My failures and successes with spinal anesthesia, 17.
Massachusetts General Hospital. Clinical meeting of the medical board, 183, 205.
Matas, R. The treatment of the arteriovenous aneurisms of the subclavian vessels, 616; apparatus for local infiltration anesthesia, 619.
Materia Medica and Therapeutics. Cacodylate of sodium as a "cure" for phthisis, 77; further observations on epinephrin, Abel, J. J., 116; further investigations on the blood-pressure-lowering bodies in the suprarenals, Hunt, R., 117; further observations on the excretion of kynurenic acid, Mendel, L. B., and Schneider, E. C., 117; the use of antitoxin, 341.
Mayer, A. The treatment of diabetes mellitus, 383.
Mayo, W. J. An operation for the radical cure of umbilical hernia, 618.
McKeen, S. F. A case of marked cyanosis, difficult to explain, 610.
McKeon, J. E. Oculists and opticians, 53.
McLaughlin, J. D. The opinion evidence of medical experts, 367.
Measles. A case of measles complicated by appendicitis, Williams, H., 642.
Medical Library. Dedication of the new building of the Boston Medical Library, 55; the Boston Medical Library, 73; associate membership in the Boston Medical Library, 315, 316; extension of membership in the Boston Medical Library, 340.
Meek, E. R. Further observations on the brown-tail moth, 657.
Meltzer, S. J. On the movements of the esophagus and the cardia and on some of the complexities of the center of deglutition, 91.
Mendel, L. B. Observations on the products of papain and bromelin proteolysis, 118.
Mendel, L. B., and Schneider, E. C. Further experiments on the excretion of kynurenic acid, 117.
Microscope. The value of clinical microscopy, bacteriology and chemistry in surgical practice, Wyeth, J. M., 541.
Midwives. Registration of midwives, Blake, J. G., 91; the registration of midwives, 97.
Milk. The dangers of boiled milk, 292; whey cream modifications in infant feeding, Miller, D. J. M., 340.
Miller, D. J. M. Whey cream modifications in infant feeding, 340.
Mind. The study of psychiatry in New York State, 76; puerperal insanity, Jelly, A. C., 271, 286; reception hospitals for the insane, 459; the toxic origin of neurasthenia and melancholia, Starr, M. A., 563; puerperal insanity, Lane, E. B., 606, 614.
Minot, C. S. The embryological basis of pathology, 295.
Mitchell, S. W. Letter read at the dedication of the new building of the Boston Medical Library, 65.
Monks, G. H. Avulsion of the finger, with a case in which this accident occurred to an infant twenty months old, 201.
Moore, J. E. Prevention and cure of post-operative hernia, 618.
Morrill, F. G. Salsomaggiore (Parma), 538.
Morris, M. A. Pregnancy following removal of both ovaries and tubes, 86, 90.
Morse, J. L. Infantile scorbutus, 465.
Mosquitoes. Mosquitoes and yellow fever, 122; the etiology of yellow fever, 337.
Moths. Further observations on the brown-tail moth, Meek, E. R., 657.
Mumford, J. G. The story of the Boston Society for Medical Improvement, 247, 258.
Mumps in pneumonia, boroglyceride, Dulles, C. W., 308.
Munger, C. E. A physiological solvent in the treatment of pus gases, 14.
Munro, J. C. Case of recovery after operation for acute pancreatitis, 235.
Muscle. Does muscle contain mucin? Fried, G. A., and Gies, W. J., 117.
Musser, J. H. Notes on the relapsing fever of Hodgkin's disease, 562.
Musser, J. H. and Gwynn, N. B. Two cases of streptothrical infection, bronchopneumonia, abscess of the brain, 586.
Myxedema, Fitz, R. H., 473; a case of myxedema and arrested development, Jackson, J. M., 494.
Narcotics. The illegal sale of narcotics, 508.
Navy. Experiment and experience with the rifle, Beyer, H. G., 1.
Neck. A special form of phlegmon of the neck, Emerson, F. P., 403.
Nervous System. Clinical notes and comments: degenerative disease of the spinal cord associated with anemia, Edes, R. T., 10; the terminal condition in a case of diplegia, Leszynsky, W. M., 68; report of two cases of spinal tumor with operation and removal, Starr, M. A., 69; an analysis of the symptoms observed in cases of tuberculous meningitis at the Babies' Hospital, Herter, C. A., 70; the great toe (Babinski) phenomenon: a contribution to the study of the normal plantar reflex based on the observation of one hundred and fifty-six healthy individuals, Prince, M., 81; on the rate of fatigue of nerve centres, Woodworth, R. S., 92; dysbasia intermittens angiosclerotica (intermittent lameness of vascular origin), Putnam, J. J., 182; lead encephalopathy, Shattuck, F. C., 184; Friedreich's ataxia, Putnam, J. J., 185; differential diagnosis in diseases of the spinal cord, Fisher, E. D., 188; case of brain tumor with astereognosis, Walton, G. L., 205; spinal accessory paralysis, Bailey, P., 212; facial hemiatrophy, Mailhouse, M., 212; progressive lingual hemiatrophy, Dana, C. L., 213; convulsions in children, Bullard, W. N., and Townsend, C. W., 233, 239; sudden (apoplectiform) bulbar paralysis, hemiplegia, asteriognosis, 253; recent progress in neurology, Knapp, P. C., 377, 404; nervous system in diabetes, Bailey, P., 382; chorea during pregnancy, Newell, F. S., 397, 407; notes from the neurological department of the Massachusetts General Hospital, Taylor, E. W., 428; neuritis recurring after atrophy of both optic nerves in a case of brain tumor, Williams, E. R., 469; the toxic origin of neurasthenia and melancholia, Starr, M. A., 563; streptothrical infection, abscess of the brain, Musser, J. H., and Gwyn, N. B., 586; personal experiences in cases of Jacksonian epilepsy, Putnam, J. J., 588; meeting of the American Neurological Association, 624.
Newell, F. S. Chorea during pregnancy, 397, 407.
Nose. The purulent rhinitis of children as a source of infection in cervical adenitis, Cobb, C. M., 38; case operated on for exaggerated Roman nose, Clark, J. P., 493.
Nurses. Instructive District Nursing Association, 409.

Obstetrics. Report on progress in obstetrics, Higgins, F. A., 4.
Orthopraxy. Progress in orthopedic surgery, Bradford, E. H., and Cotton, F. J., 108, 141, 158.
Osler, W. Remarks at the dedication of the new building of the Boston Medical Library, 60; the spinal form of arthritis deformans, 588; London Congress on Tuberculosis, 657.
Osteitis Deformans. Packard, F. A., and Steele, J. D., 587.
Osteo arthritis. Shattuck, F. C., 184.
Otis, E. O. The home treatment vs. the climatic treatment of tuberculosis, 609.
Packard, F. A., and Steele, J. D. Osteitis deformans, 587.
Page, C. G. Early diagnosis of typhoid fever by isolation of bacillus typhosus from stools, conclusions of Dr. L. Rémy based on the use of his asparagin-lactose-carbol gelatine, 445, 455.
Pancreas. Acute pancreatitis, Richardson, M. H., 235; case of recovery after operation for acute pancreatitis, Munro, J. C., 235; new light on the cause of pancreatitis, 506; pancreatitis, with especial reference to chronic pancreatitis, Robson, A. W. M., 591.
Parks, E. L. An operation for cataract, 37.
Park, R. Some phases of the cancer question, 588.
Park, W. A. To what extent is urine a suitable soil for bacterial growth, 587.
Pathology. Progress in pathology, Wright, J. H., 282; the embryological basis of pathology, Minot, C. S., 295.
Paul, W. E. Sudden (apoplectiform) bulbar paralysis; hemiplegia; astereognosis, 253.
Pennsylvania Hospital. The one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the Pennsylvania Hospital, 510.
Pernicious Anemia. Report on the progress of cases of pernicious anemia presented to the association in 1900, and report of a case of pernicious anemia with diffuse spinal cord lesions with post-mortem findings, Billings, F., 562.
Perry, H. B. The Umillian murder, 371.
Pharynx. Peritonsillar abscess, Cobb, F. C., 106, 112; retropharyngeal abscess in the adult, 108, 112.
Phelps, A. M. Hernia, 189.
Philippines. Report of the medical department in the Philippines, 120; a description of the work of the army pathological laboratories, and general remarks on the investigation of the diseases of the Philippines, Curry, J. J., 175; dysenteric diseases of the Philippine Islands, with special reference to the ameba coli as a causative agent in tropical dysentery, Curry, J. J., 177; a school of tropical medicine in the Philippines, 194; the fevers of the Philippines, Curry, J. J., 446.
Physicians and the law, 623.
Physical Culture, 48.
Physiology. A physiological solvent in the treatment of pus gases, Munger, C. E., 14; annual meeting of the American Physiological Society, 91; observations on the blood pressure during the period of normal sleep, Brush and Fayerweather, 91; on the movements of the esophagus and the cardia and on some of the complexities of the centre of deglutition, Meltzer, S. J., 91; some new observations on blood plates and leucocytes, Kemp, G. T., and Calhoun, H., 92; on the rate of fatigue of nerve centres, Woodworth, R. S., 92; student's laboratory table, Reichert, E. T., 92; a rheonome, Reichert, E. T., 92; a rheochord, Reichert, E. T., 92; a rheochord, Clark, G. P., 92; further observations on epinephrin, Abel, J. J., 116; further investigations on the blood-pressure-lowering bodies in the suprarenals, Hunt, R., 117; further experiments on the excretion of kynurenic acid, Mendel, L. B., and Schneider, E. C., 117; does muscle contain mucin, Fried, G. A., and Gies, W. J., 117; method of preparing elastin, with some facts regarding ligament mucin, Richards, A. N., and Gies, W. J., 117; on the occurrence of lipase in the body and its reversible action, Loevenhart, A. S., 118; on the oxidation of native pigments, Jones, W., and Auer, J., 118; observations on the products of papain and bromelin proteolysis, Mendel, L. B., 118; analysis of some nucleic acids, Levene, P. A., 118; a further study of the glycoproteid in bone, Hawk, P. B., and Gies, W. J., 119; changes in the composition of the cocoanut during germination, Kirkwood, J. E., and Gies, W. J., 119.
Placenta Previa. A case of Cesarean section for complete placenta previa, Hare, C. H., 151, 160; placenta previa centralis, report of a case, Dewis, J. W., 157, 161; a case of complete placenta previa, Coggeshall, F., 157, 160.
Plague in South Africa, 360; study of bubonic plague based upon the outbreak in San Francisco, Barker, Novy and Flexner, 564; study of bubonic plague, Flexner, 585.
Population. Ratio of physicians to the population, 47.
Porter, C. A. Operation for gunshot wound, 208.
Porter, C. B. Fracture of the kidney, 208; cases of plastic operation, 494; enteroptosis, 494.
Powers, C. A. Giant sacrococcygeal tumors, 618.
Pregnancy. Affections connected with full-term ectopic gestation, Cragin, E. B., 15; malignant chorion epithelioma, or so-called deciduoma malignum, Brothers, A., 16; report on progress in obstetrics, Higgins, F. A., 40; pregnancy following removal of both ovaries and tubes, Morris, M. A., 86, 90; extra-uterine pregnancy, Washburn, G. H., 90; a case of Cesarean section for complete placenta previa, Hare, C. H., 151, 160; placenta previa centralis, report of a case, Dewis, J. W., 157, 161; a case of complete placenta previa, Coggeshall, F., 157, 160; the treatment of puerperal fever, Beck, C., 189; the rôle of the infections in women, Reed, C. A. L., 189; specimen of tubal pregnancy, Boldt, H. J., 213; the definition of septicemia and pyemia; the indication for vaginal hysterectomy and for abdominal section and drainage in puerperal fever, Boldt, H. J., 214; a case of Cesarian section, Keenan, H. J., 255; puerperal insanity, Jelly, A. C., 271, 286; vomiting of pregnancy, suspension of pregnant uterus, extra-uterine pregnancy, operation for fibroids, Vogel, J. O., 280; pathology of the newborn as illustrated in the practice of the writer, Taylor, F. W., 347, 357; a case of chin left posterior, Swain, H. T., 352, 357; chorea during pregnancy, Newell, F. S., 397, 407; observations in the use of antistreptococcus serum in the treatment of puerperal sepsis, with a report of five cases, Higgins, F. A., 422, 432; a case of Cæsarean section in a face presentation complicated by uterine fibroid, Call, E. S., 427, 431; affections connected with puerperal insanity; Lane, E. B., 606, 614.
Prince, M. The great toe (Babinski) phenomenon: a contribution to the study of the normal plantar reflex based on the observation of one hundred and fifty-six healthy individuals, 81.
Psychiatry. The study of psychiatry in New York State, 76.
Public documents, 434.
Putnam, J. J. Dysbasia intermittens angiosclerotica (intermittent lameness of vascular origin), 182; Friedreich's ataxia, 185; personal experiences in cases of Jacksonian epilepsy, 588.
Queen. The last illness of the Queen, 149.
Rabies. The preventive treatment of rabies, 457.
Ratio of physicians to the population, 47.
Recent Progress. Obstetrics, Higgins, F. A., 40; diseases of children, Rotch, T. M., 66; laryngology, Coolidge, A. Jr., 87; orthopraxy, Bradford, E. H., and Cotton, F. J., 108, 141, 158; dermatology, Bowen, J. T., 186, 209; thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., and Bartol, J. W., 236, 256; pathology, Wright, J. H., 282; public hygiene, Abbott, S. W., 311, 332, 353; neurology, Knapp, P. C., 377, 404; surgery, Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W., 429, 451, 476; otology, Hammond, P., 523; gynecology, Lund, F. B., 583, 611; recent progress in genito-urinary surgery, Watson, F. S., and Thorndike, P., 643; the progress and tendency of hygiene and sanitary science in the nineteenth century, Kober, G. M., 652.
Reception hospitals for the insane, 459.
Reed, C. A. L. The army bill and the medical department, 52; the rôle of the infections in women, 189.
Reichert, E. T. Student's laboratory table, 92; a rheochord, 92; a rheonome, 92.
Reed, W., and Carroll, J. Experimental yellow fever, 586.
Respiratory System. Climate in pulmonary tuberculosis, Knight, F. I., 52; cacodylate of sodium as a "cure" for tuberculosis, 77; recent progress in the treatment of acute lobar pneumonia, Crook, J. K., 164; pleuropericardial and diaphragmatic adhesions, Goodwillie, D. H., 188; recent progress in thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., and Bartol, J. W., 236, 256; mumps in pneumonia, boroglyceride, Dulles, C. W., 308; a brief summary of nine cases of lobar pneumonia, treated by ice pack, Collins, G. L., 309; experience in search of a cure for asthma in the far Southwest, with observations of the comparative value of different sections in respiratory diseases, Bell, R., 395; a municipal hospital for pulmonary tuberculosis, 482; municipal care of the consumptive poor, Knopf, S. A., 477; asthma, Emerson, F. P., 520; uncomplicated hemorrhage from the pyothorax, Jacobi, A., 561; a case of pneumonia complicated by pseudomembranous exudate on the mucous membranes of the mouth, tongue, pharynx, nares, conjuctivæ, glans penis, anus, etc., caused by dipplococcus pneumoniæ, Cary, C., 562; streptothrical infection, bronchopneumonia, Musser, J. H., and Gwyn, N. B., 586; the home treatment of tuberculosis vs. the climatic treatment, Otis, E. O., 609; resection of the chest wall for a large sarcoma, successful use of the antistreptococcic serum, Keen, W. W., 619; pneumotomy of the lung, Hearn and Roe, 620.
Responsibility of the doctor, 74.
Restrictive medical legislation, 385.
Reynolds, E. A case of vesical implantation of the ureter by Dudley's forceps method after the failure of several plastics, 84.
Richardson, M. H. Typhoid fever vs. appendicitis, 26; remarks upon spinal cocainization suggested by cases seen at Tuffier's clinic in Paris, August, 1900, 37; a case of obliteration of the right ureter by a calcified fibroid; removal of fibroid and implantation of the ureter into the bladder; recovery, 83, 91; a case of idiopathic dilatation of the colon, 155; remarks on anesthesia, general, local and spinal, 391, 407; acute pancreatitis, 235.
Richards, A. N., and Gies, W. J. Methods of preparing elastin, with some facts regarding ligament mucin, 117.
Richardson, O. The bacteriological diagnosis of the gonococcus 129.
Rifle. Experiment and experience with the rifle, Beyer, H. G., 1.
Robson, A. W. M. Pancreatitis with especial reference to chronic pancreatitis, 591; the surgical treatment of chronic ulcer of the stomach, 615.
Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, 565.
Rollins, W. A smaller seehear, 112; x-light kills, 173; notes on x-light; an unpublished method of lowering the resistance of an x-light tube, 221, 269, 401; a table for x-light examinations, 285; notes on x-light, the control guinea pigs, 317.
Rontgen. A death associated with use of the Röntgen rays, 26; note on the treatment of epidermoid cancer by the Röntgen rays, Williams, F. H., 66; x-light kills, Rollins, W., 173; no practical danger from the x-ray, Codman, E. A., 197; notes on x-light, Rollins, W., 221, 269, 401; notes on x-light; an unpublished method of lowering the resistance of an x-light tube, Rollins, W., 269; a table for x-light examinations, Rollins, W., 285; notes on x-light, the control guinea pigs, Rollins, W., 317; a review of the literature of the therapeutic use of the x-rays, Towle, H. P., 343; notes on the treatment of some forms of cancer by the x-rays, Williams, F. H., 587.
Roosevelt tenement-house commission, 389.
Rotch, T. M. Report on the diseases of children, 66.
Russell, C. K. Leucocytosis and typhoidal perforation, 374.
Salsomaggiore (Parma). Morrill, F. G., 538.
Sarcoma of the humerus and scapula, Blake, J. B., 645.
Satterthwaite, T. E. Fatty degeneration of the heart, 165.
Scorbutus. Infantile scorbutus, Morse, J. L., 465.
Scudder, C. L. The seminal vesicles in gonorrhea, 136; contusion of the abdomen, no external wound, rupture of the descending colon, fecal abscess, drainage, suture of ruptured gut, recovery, 377; contusions of the abdomen, 415.
Seaman, L. L. American soldiers in the tropics, 598.
Sears, G. G., and Bartol, J. W. Recent progress in thoracic diseases, 236, 256.
Sears, G. G. A case of trichinosis, 523.
Shattuck, F. C. Rupture of the right iliac artery, 183; lead encephalopathy, 184; osteoarthritis, 184.
Shattuck, G. B. The Widal reaction in typhoid fever, 443, 454.

Sherwell, S. Cutaneous complications in diabetes mellitus, 382.
Sleep. Observations on the blood pressure during the period of normal sleep, Brush and Fayerweather, 91.
Smallpox. The prevalence of smallpox, 457; smallpox at Berlin, Watson, I. A., 627.
Societies. American Association of Pathologists and Bacteriologists, 339; American Medical Association, 597, 648; American Neurological Association, 624; American Physiological Society, 91, 116; American Surgical Association, 588, 615; Association of American Physicians, 533, 561, 585; Boston Society for Medical Improvement, 43, 247, 258, 335, 559; International Medical Congress, 29, 43; Massachusetts Medical Society, 596, 622, 626; New York Academy of Medicine, 380; New York Neurological Society, 68, 212; New York Obstetrical Society, 15, 213; New York, Medical Society of the State of, 163, 188; Obstetrical Society of Boston, 90, 286, 357, 407; Pan-American Congress, 51, 219; Suffolk District Medical Society, 112, 160, 237, 431, 454, 499, 527, 614, 645.
Spectacles. The use and abuse of spectacles, Derby, H., 199.
Spleen. Splenectomy, Warren, J. C., 185; acute miliary tuberculosis, primarily splenic, Stewart, D. D., 562.
Stark, H. S. Diagnosis and prognosis of diabetes mellitus, 380.
Starr, M. A. Report of two cases of spinal tumor, with operation and removal, 69; the toxic origin of neurasthenia and melancholia, 563.
Stedman, J. C. Electric automobiles a source of electric light, 101.
Stengel, A. The causes and clinical features of cardiac hydrothorax, 535.
Stengel, A., White, C. Y., and Pepper, W. Study of granular degeneration of the red blood corpuscles, 563.
Stern, H. Etiology and pathogenesis of diabetes mellitus, 381.
Stewart, D. D. Acute miliary tuberculosis, primarily splenic, 562.
Subsidy problem in New York City, 510.
Suprarenal capsule in heart disease, Floersheim, S., 77.
Surgery. Report on progress of surgery, Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W., 429, 451, 476, 495; the value of clinical microscopy, bacteriology and chemistry in surgical practice, Wyeth, J. M., 541; catharsis in abdominal surgery, Crandon, L. R. G., 639; recent progress in genito-urinary surgery, Watson, F. S., and Thorndike, P., 643.
Swain, H. T. A case of chin left posterior, 352, 357.
Swasey, E. Destruction of left eye and frontal lobe of brain from a shotgun explosion, 230.
Taylor, E. W. Notes from the neurological department of the Massachusetts General Hospital, 428.
Taylor, F. W. Pathology of the newborn as illustrated in the practice of the writer, 347, 357.
Tenement House. Report of the New York tenement-house commission, 242.
Tennessee. The physicians' home; East Tennessee mountains designated as a location, Harris, J. S., 100.
Tenney, B. Gonorrheal infection, 127.
Thayer, W. S. Frequency and the diagnosis of the Flint murmur in aortic insufficiency, 534.
Thom, D. M. B. Lithotomy and lithotrity in Turkey-in-Asia, 220.
Thorndike, P. When is a gonorrhea cured, 140.
Totten-McMaster, G. Disgraceful and annoying medical advertisements in current magazines and newspapers, 569.
Tonsils. Peritonsillar abscess, Cobb, F. C., 106, 112.
Towle, H. P. A review of the literature of the therapeutic use of the x-rays, 343.
Training. The effects of training, Darling, E. A., 556; athletic training, 654.
Trichinosis, Vickery, H. F., 474; a case of trichinosis, Sears, G. G., 523.
Trudeau, E. Report on a chemical study of the tubercle bacillus, 587; the importance of the recognition of the significance of early tuberculosis in its relation to treatment, 588.
Tuberculosis. Climate in pulmonary tuberculosis, Knight, F. I., 52; the British congress on tuberculosis, 122; a hospital for tuberculosis in Boston, 240; a municipal hospital for pulmonary tuberculosis, 482; the diagnosis and treatment of renal tuberculosis, Brown, F. T., 513, 527; acute miliary tuberculosis, primarily splenic, Stewart, D. D., 562; report on a chemical study of the tubercle bacillus, Trudeau, E., 587; the importance of a recognition of the significance of early tuberculosis in its relation to treatment; Trudeau, E., 588; investigation of tuberculosis in New York state, 597; the home treatment of tuberculosis vs. the climatic treatment, Otis, E. O., 609; London Congress on Tuberculosis, Osler, W., 657; a census of tuberculosis, 655.
Typhoid Fever. Typhoid fever vs. appendicitis Richardson, M. H., 26; compulsory disinfection in typhoid fever, 168; leucocytosis and typhoidal perforation, Russell, C. K., 374; the epidemic of typhoid fever in New Haven, Conn., 386; some reported cases of typhoid fever attributed to contaminated oysters, with certain facts concerning this means of infection, Harrington, C., 439, 455; experience with the Widal reaction in typhoid fever, Withington, C. F., 442, 454; the Widal reaction in typhoid fever, Shattuck, G. B., 443, 454; means of infection in typhoid fever, Whittier, E. N., 444, 455; early diagnosis of typhoid fever by isolation of bacillus typhosus from stools; conclusions of Dr. L. Remy based on the use of his asparagin-lactose-carbol gelatine, Page, C. G., 445, 455; the fevers of the Philippines, Curry, J. J., 446; the facts about a typhoid fever epidemic, 511; orchitis complicating typhoid fever, Kinnicutt, F. P., 587.
Underpaid physicians of public institutions, 22.
Urinary System. A case of obliteration of the right ureter by a calcified fibroid; removal of fibroid and implantation of the ureter into the bladder; recovery, Richardson, M. H., 83, 91; a case of vesical implantation of the ureter by Dudley's forceps method after the failure of several plastics, Reynolds, E., 84; results following the cure of chronic defects in the vesical function, Fuller, E., 165; retention of urine from obstruction by the third lobe of the prostate gland, Beach, H. H. A., 207; fracture of the kidney, Porter, C. B., 208; lithotomy and lithotrity in Turkey-in-Asia, Thom, D. M. B., 220; case of stone in the ureter located by the x-ray, Elliot, J. W., 475; prostatectomy by the combined method (Alexander), Elliot, J. W., 475; the diagnosis and surgical treatment of renal tuberculosis, Brown, F. T., 513, 527; idiopathic abscess of the kidney, Cabot, A. T., 554; a case of malarial nephritis, with massing of the parasites in the kidney, Ewing, J., 586; recent progress in genito-urinary surgery, Watson, F. S., and Thorndike, P., 643.
Valk, F. Esophoria or latent squint, 164.
Vanderveer, A. Phlebitis following abdominal operations, 617.
Veeder, M. A. Disinfection within or without the body in diphtheria, 153.
Vickery, H. F. Case of elephantiasis, 474; trichinosis, 474.
Virchow. "Rudolf Virchow Fund," 365.
Vivisection. Defeat of the bill to regulate vivisection, 434.
Vogel, J. O. Vomiting of pregnancy, suspension of pregnant uterus, extra-uterine pregnancy, operation for fibroids, 280.
Walcott, H. P. Remarks at the dedication of the new building of the Boston Medical Library, 64.
Walton, G. L. Case of brain tumor with astereognosis, 205.
Warren, J. C. Splenectomy, 185; loose semilunar cartilages, 186.
Washburn, G. H. Extra-uterine pregnancy, 91.
Water. A menace to Boston's water supply, 565.
Watson, I. A. Smallpox at Berlin, N. H., 627.
Watson, F. S., and Thorndike, P. Recent progres in genito-urinary surgery, 643.
Welch, W. H. Address before the Association of American Physicians, 533.
White, F. W., and Ladd, M. Whey cream modifications in infant feeding, 237.
White, J. C. A case of ichthyosis in a boy four years old, 472; cases of xeroderma pigmentosum, 473; dermatitis produced by a caterpillar, 599.
Whittier, E. N. Means of infection in typhoid fever, 444, 455.
Williams, C. H. Gonorrheal conjunctivitis, 139.
Williams, E. R. Neuritis occurring after atrophy of both optic nerves in a case of brain tumor, 469.
Williams, H. A case of measles, complicated by appendicitis, 642.
Williams, F. H. Notes on the treatment of epidermoid cancer by the Röntgen rays, 66; a further report on the treatment of epidermoid cancer, 329; notes on the treatment of some forms of cancer by the x-rays, 587.
Withington, C. F. Experience with the Widal reaction in typhoid fever, 442, 454.
Wood, H. C. Remarks at the dedication of the new building of the Boston Medical Library, 63.
Woodworth, R. S. On the rate of fatigue of nerve centers, 92.
Wright, J. H. Progress in pathology, 282.
Wyeth, J. M. The value of clinical microscopy, bacteriology and chemistry in surgical practice, 541.
Yellow Fever. Mosquitoes and yellow fever, 122; the etiology of yellow fever, 337; experimental yellow fever, Hill, W., and Carroll, J., 586.